REGULATION HARD HATS

These must be worn by all riders, as specified by USEF.

POINTS AND CHAMPIONSHIPS

Hunter Divisions

At any single show, all horse and ponies competing in hunter divisions for Year End Awards, must enter and complete one over fences class in that division in order that all points won will count.

Point System

The chart below fully explains the system of awarding points for ribbon winnings based upon class size. Within each division, use the number of entries in the largest class, and apply that to the other classes in that division.

	1 to 8	9+
1st Place	10	20
2nd Place	6	12
3rd Place	4	8
4th Place	2	4
5th Place	1	2
6th Place	1/2	1

Championships

The above point system is to be used in determining division championships at each horse show.

Championship Ties

It is the duty of the show committee to announce any ties as quickly as possible following the completion of the involved division. The tie should be settled promptly.

In hunter division ties, the winner is to be the horse or pony with the most points over fences. If this does not break the tie, then a hack off is to be held, or they can be decided by the flip of a coin if both parties agree.

In equitation division ties, they must hack off, or equal ribbons awarded, or a championship class held open to 1st and 2nd place winners throughout the division.

DIVISION/CLASS SPECIFICATIONS

Unfilled Classes/Canceled Classes

In classes with 4 or less entries, the show management has the option to cancel those classes, except where classes may be combined (see individual class specifications). E.C.S.J. RECOMMENDATIONS ON JUMP CONSTRUCTION AND COURSE DESIGN

Reference: Carruthers, Morris, Hogan & Thompson: Designing Courses and Obstacles, Houghton Mifflin Company, Boston, 1978.

Suggestions of Good Course Design

The well-planned course should enable horse and rider to demonstrate their abilities. Every course should encourage clean rounds. If no horse can negotiate the course successfully, then the course is of poor design, or the designer has set a test too severe for the caliber of horses competing.

"A hunter course shall be any course which management deems a fair test of a hunter. Fences shall simulate obstacles found in a jumping field, such as a natural post and rail, brush, stone wall, white board fence or gate, chicken coop, aiken, hedge, oxer, etc. Oxers are not to be square. A 6" difference is recommended for the back element with a minimum of 3". A ground line is recommended for all fences. In handy classes, fences shall simulate those found in trappy hunting country; the course must have a least two changes of direction, and at least one combination; horses are required to trot over one fence toward the end of the course and may be asked to lead over one fence. A chicken coop hinged at the top and free at the bottom, and jumps such as a triple bar and hogs back, striped rails, targets and spread over 4' are prohibited.

The suggested distance for an in-and-out when used in a ring is 24' to 26', and on an outside course is 26' to 28'. An in-and-out is considered two obstacles in the required number of fences, but must never be used as a first fence.

Every course must have at least four (4) different types of fences, and all fences must have wings 30" wide, that are at least 12" higher than the fence. Pen jumps are excepted.

The top element of all fences must be securely placed so that a slight rub will not cause a knock-down, and must be equally secure for different heights in the same class. The inside dimension of a cup for a 4" pole must be a minimum of 1 1/2" deep, and 5" across.

Spacing between fences - Distances should not be so awkward as to require a horse to alter his normal stride. The normal stride of a horse is 12'. When spacing fences on a line, try to achieve fences 3, 4 or 5 strides apart. Pen striding is allowed on the turns. Striding distance is determined as follows: 3 strides - $3 \times 12' + 12' = 48'$; 4 strides - $4 \times 12' + 12' = 60'$; 5 strides - $5 \times 12' + 12' = 72'$. In-and-outs: Horses 24' to 26' in ring; 26' to 28' outside course. Small ponies 20' to 22'; large ponies 24'".
